FS2004 AF-VN Atlanta '42 and San Diego '44

Description: This package contains two versions of the Atlanta Class Light Cruiser. The first is USS Atlanta, the lead of the class, as she was in late 1942 just prior to her sinking. The second is USS San Diego, who was second in WWII battle stars to only one ship, the Big-E, as she was after her early 1944 refit. Also included are two historical demo missions about Atlanta and Juneau's last two days off Guadalcanal and the air attacks on them 11 and 12 November 1942. Pen32Win more info readme.txt

FS2004 Automatic engine smoke for Robert Versluys's Airbus A380-800

Description: FS2004 Automatic engine smoke for Robert Versluys's Airbus A380-800 models and also for all default fs9 aircraft. The gauges and effects contained herein will start smoke in propeller, jet or turbo jet when the aircraft is accelerated over about 50% and turn smoke off if decelerated below. This version adds smokes for all default aircraft and also gives instructions on how to install smokes in any other aircraft. By Alejandro Villa

FS2004 Boeing 797

Description: Can you tell me anything about the Boeing 787 and 797 as well as the Airbus A350, A360, A370, and A390? I'd at least like some general ideas about them such range, capacity, and dimensions. What would future airliners look like, apart from the ugly Boeing BWB? FS2004 fx_contrail_1.fx

Description: This is an improved version of the contrail-fx for FS9 by Thorsten Reichert (c) 2005. The original contrail are too short and all in all not very realistic. Try this and see your AI-traffic like the REAL one. ;-) All rights at the author. Contact me at www.thorstenreichert.de or at the forum of www.flightsimulator.de Greets, Thorsten alias horst18519
