FS2004 Wing53 Air Base,Prachuap Kirikhan (VTBP)

Description: Wing53 Air Base,Prachuap Kirikhan (VTBP) Wing 53 is mainly used for military operation (Royal Thai Air Force, RTAF). Currently, there is no civilian aircraft or airliners allowed to use this air base. As far as we know, only government aircraft (e.g. Kaset "Royal Rain Makers" missions, and police) periodically use this air base. This is one of the very rare crossed runway can be found in the country. With a service road running across runway 26, the pilots need to be sure that the road is temporarily closed (notified by ATC) before commencing the final approach and landing.Scenery by: Pongsuwan "TNG" Ratanasuwan

FS2004, LAX Version 3 Update KLAX

Description: This file is a very simple installation which updates the LAX3.zip add on scenery to include much improved pylons at the airport entrance, and the LAX sign in the same location. The pylons have been revised so the day textures no longer have a pink and blue hue, and are completely off white. New night textures light up the pylons in more vivid and bright hues to match the airport restaurant, and tower. The LAX sign has also been revised to resemble the real thing. The letters have been reworked to make them less block like. They have also been compressed to make each letter thinner, and appear taller. You must have LAX3.zip installed in order to use this update. By: Bill Melichar

FS2004, Mexico City International Airport

Description: FS2004, Mexico City International Airport This scenery is of the International airport in Mexico City, the world's largest city. It includes the entire airport plus the airport hotels, and the small hill just outside the airport that has a radar tower on top of it. It also contains an accurately depicted control tower, and the doppler radar tower on the far side of the airport. The unusual heavy steel fence in a criss cross pattern which surrounds part of the airport is also included. One of the main Autopistas that runs along the perimeter of the airport is also included with traffic running in both directions for more dramatic landings. This airport is homebase to AeroMexico, Mexicana, and Aeromar. All afcads are welcome!By: Bill Melichar
